

Community Engagement Resources

The following are resources to support community engagement in HIV research available through the Office of HIV/AIDS Network Coordination (HANC) portal and the U.S. National Institutes of Health (NIH), Division of AIDS (DAIDS) Learning Portal (DLP).

Training Modules

- American Indian Alaska Native Two-Spirit HIV Prevention Research Module (HANC Portal)
- Basic Scientific Literacy Training Module (HANC Portal)
- Be the Generation HIV Prevention Research Training Module (HANC Portal)
- Community Advisory Boards (eLearning on DLP)
- Introduction to Clinical Research and Clinical Research Progress (eLearning on DLP)
- Introduction to Transgender Communities (eLearning Portal on DLP) (PowerPoint presentation and supporting materials available in English, Spanish and Portuguese on DLP)
- Understanding Clinical Research Process and Principles of Clinical of Clinical Research (Presentation and supporting materials in English, Spanish and Portuguese (HANC Portal)

Training Video

- Research Ethics and Informed Consent Video (DLP & HANC Portal)

Best Practices

- Native Engagement in Clinical Research – Project Guidance and Best Practices Document (HANC Portal)
- Recommendations for Community Engagement in HIV/AIDS Research Version 2.0 (DLP & HANC Portal) (Materials available in English and Spanish)
- Site Close Out and Community Engagement (HANC Portal)

Selected Webinars

- Historical Trauma and HIV (HANC Portal/ Legacy Project)
- HIV in the Latinx Community (HANC Portal/ Legacy Project)
- Improving HIV Youth Prevention and Care Continuums: The Adolescent Medicine Trials Networks for HIV/AIDS Interventions (HANC Portal)
- Recruitment of Cisgender and Transgender Women in HIV Clinical Trials (HANC Portal)
- Recruitment and Retention of Women and Adolescent Girls in HIV Clinical Trials (HANC Portal)
- Understanding HIV & Aging (HANC Portal/ Legacy Project)

Glossary

- HIV/AIDS Cure Glossary (HANC Portal)

DAIDS Learning Portal

The Division of AIDS (DAIDS) has developed the DAIDS Learning Portal (DLP) to support clinical researchers, grantees, and collaborators. The DLP is a resource providing the latest DAIDS training information including:

- What training is required by DAIDS
- Where to find DAIDS training resources
- Who to contact with questions
- When the next live training resources and websites
- How to find other training resources and websites
- Where to find answers to frequently asked questions

Community Partners

Community Partners (CP) is a cross-network body charged with promoting effective representation of the many communities within which the NIH HIV/AIDS Clinical Trials Networks conduct research. CP is tasked with ensuring effective network representation and articulation of scientific agenda priorities; ethical conduct of clinical trials; community education; communication and information dissemination; respect for community priorities; and continued community participation.

The Women's Research Collaborative

The Women's Research Collaborative (WHRC) is a cross-network working group of the Legacy project comprised of women who are leaders in women's health and HIV from around the United States. With community and staff representatives from all five NIH-funded HIV/AIDS clinical trials networks, this group provides culturally appropriate guidance and leadership in development, implementation, and dissemination of information about HIV research focused on and responsive to the needs of cisgender and transgender women and girls in the United States.

The Legacy Project

The Legacy Project's mission is to build trust and collaboration between historically underrepresented communities most impacted by the domestic HIV epidemic, researchers, and research institutions; enhance cultural competence; and initiate scientific investigation to increase clinical research participation.

How to find these resources:

Some of the resources listed are available on the Office of HIV/AIDS Network Coordination public portal located at <https://www.hanc.info>

Under Coordination Areas, go to Community Partners for a listing of available resources. Some of the webinars listed here may be found under the listing for Legacy Project Webinars.

Some training materials are available on the Division of AIDS Learning Portal or DLP located at <https://daidslearningportal.niaid.nih.gov>

The DLP is available to staff and stakeholders working with the Division of AIDS. Click on "request an account" to get access; you will need your site number to complete the request form. If you are not affiliated with a site, scroll to the bottom of the page and click on Contact the DAIDS Training Support Team. Accounts are being provided for people requesting access to the transgender training modules and other community resources.